ABOUT US:

Bellevue Recovery and Supportive Services was born out of tragedy, God's direction and an idea.

The drug epidemic has ravished our country with more than 72,000 overdose deaths reported in 2017, up from 64,000 in 2016.

If the number of deaths do not scream "help" we don't know what does! Talk to anyone today and we would venture to bet they know of someone who has lost a loved one, or tragically, it has hit right in their own homes.

Bellevue Recovery and Supportive Services (B.R.A.S.S.), a local non-profit organization, serves as a beacon of hope in the greater Bellevue community area. A "place" to go, to receive help, hope and support, for those who are struggling in active addiction, or a loved one trying to figure out the why's & what's.

B.R.A.S.S. is here for you!

*Addiction is real.
So is recovery.*
